THE YEAR 2022 GREAT MOMENTS IN OUR ARTS + CULTURE

2022 has been a fast moving year. With so much happening, it's staggering to think of all that we have been through in so little time.

Looking over our vast social media output, I realized these words and images provided a diary of the year, a chronicle of events, through the lens of our arts and culture.

What a wild ride! Enjoy!

Frieze: The Meg Cranston Review

Didn't make it to Frieze? Here's the roundup.

- + The dead out paced the living. See Leon Polke Smith, etc.
- + A lot of store bought canvases probably due to supply chain issues.
- + A lot of homemade rugs and other woven things.
- + Gold is in, both gold pigment and leaf.
- + I hear prices remain astronomical, 150—350 for painters under 30. Good for them.

always interesting that most of the gossip I heard, never was coming from an internal source. Like if I was talking to Roger (Herman) or David Amico or Tara, any of us, we never had these kinds of conversations.

...and I realized there was this whole kind of cult and mythology
and storytelling around Doug Chrismas...

I remember the LA Weekly piece that came out on him. He was on the cover, an illustration of him on the cover, like a caricature. I'm reading the article and I'm thinking, "Holy fuck. This is terrible." When I later saw him, I said, "This is terrible." And he said, "Today."

GG: And what does he mean by that do you think?

don't think so. I believe they've always been competitors.

Well, of course they are. But I didn't know if-o my knowledge, I have not heard a peep of anything like that. And mart guy.

A SPECIAL REPORT.

A COMPELLING PORTRAIT.

THE TALENTED MR. CHRISMAS

"...Larry's not in the art business. He's in the real estate business..."

Yes. He's always been on his own. Doug really never bought in to see ors in a way that Gagosian has. I mean, Gagosian has to have a who of investors that he works with. He has to. How else do you open up es? Or however many he has?

ight. Well, people often say that "Larry's not in the art business. He sal estate business."

Yes.

ART REPORT TODAY.com

Doug designed the placeprints for that, a long time ago in the ros. if Berlin, Beijing, Mexico. Would you agree or disagree with that?
